Introduction

This Financial Services Guide (FSG) contains information that will help you decide whether to use the financial services we offer. It sets out:

- who we are and how we can be contacted;
- the advice and services we provide;
- information about our licensee;
- our fees and how we and your advisor, are paid in connection with those services;
- how we manage your private information; and
- how you can complain about a matter relating to us.

Not Independent

WPFP Pty Ltd and Canny Wealth may receive commissions from insurance products. Canny Wealth may recommend Investment Advice and Execution Services (OM Services) issued by Ord Minnett Limited. As such we are not able to refer to ourselves as 'independent', 'impartial' or 'unbiased'.

Documents you may receive

We will provide you with a number of documents as you progress through our financial services process to capture each stage of your advice journey. We may provide these documents to you electronically to your nominated email address, unless otherwise agreed.

When we provide personal advice, this will normally be documented and provided to you in a Statement of Advice (SOA), known as a financial plan. The financial plan contains a summary of your goals and the strategies and any financial products we may recommend to achieve your goals. It also provides you with detailed information about product costs and the fees and other benefits we and others will receive, as a result of the advice we have provided.

If we provide further personal advice to you, we may not be required to provide a new SOA where the law permits this, including where your relevant circumstances and the basis of the advice have not significantly changed since your previous advice. In those circumstances, we may provide you with a Record of Advice (ROA) instead, which we will retain for seven years. You may request a copy of such records by contacting our office during that period.

If we recommend or arrange a financial product for you we will provide a product disclosure statement (PDS) or investor directed portfolio service (IDPS) guide where relevant. These documents contain the key features of the recommended product, such as its benefits and risks as well as the costs you will pay the product provider to professionally manage that product. You should read any warnings contained in your advice document, the PDS or IDPS guide carefully before making any decision relating to a financial strategy or product.

About	Working in financial planning brings me satisfaction, especially when I help clients reach their life goals. Many people approach the middle or later stages of their careers with little financial planning, often due to feeling overwhelmed by the process. It is incredibly rewarding to provide clarity and direction to professionals and soon-to-be retirees, and I take great pride in the relief and confidence they experience as a result.
	After making my first investment at 18 and buying my first property at 21, I pursued a Bachelor of Commerce and worked as a senior financial planner at a major Australian bank for seven years. During this time, I gained valuable experience but it became clear on the need for more transparent and fair financial advice. This led me to establish Endorphin Wealth Management.
	Today, my personal portfolio comprises of Australian and international shares as well as multiple properties. I have completed my Masters of Business Administration (MBA). In 2024, I decided to work with a larger organisation to enhance the support I provide to clients. At Canny Wealth, our core philosophy is simple: our clients' stories come first. Our advice is driven by what is best for you, focusing not only on financial objectives but also on your broader life goals. We believe that when your finances are in order, the rest of your life can more easily fall into place. I am excited to continue helping clients achieve financial clarity in the years ahead.
